Slash costs, uncover hidden risks: 5 reasons
Smarsh Intelligent Agent transforms compliance

Outdated monitoring tools fail to scale with dynamic compliance demands

As a regulated organization, you need to supervise your electronic communications. However, with the exponential growth in your number and sources of communications, your supervision workload is quickly becoming overwhelming. Your team simply does not have the time, the manpower or the budget to hire more resources to supervise communications. You don't want to expose your organization to more risk, but you also don't want to waste valuable resources.

Smarter compliance: The AI impact on communications oversight

- AI implementation in banking has decreased manual review hours for compliance by 45% or more¹
- 92% of financial compliance teams using AI say it's meeting or exceeding ROI expectations²
- A global financial firm using Intelligent Agent, powered by Smarsh AI, reduced its review workload by 77%³

Why Smarsh Intelligent Agent is essential for communications surveillance

- 1 Slash review time. Cut review costs.
Stop wasting time on noise. Intelligent Agent filters out low-value content like newsletters and disclaimers, cutting review times by up to 50% with smart, contextual AI.
- 2 Spot more real risks. Sooner.
Don't just check the box. Uncover 3 to 5 times more risks hidden in everyday communications using advanced LLMs for detection.
- 3 Global reach. Local precision.
Review messages across borders without missing a beat. Intelligent Agent translates and analyzes communications in multiple languages, so nothing slips through.
- 4 Built by experts. Backed by leaders.
This isn't generic AI. Smarsh has over a decade of experience delivering explainable AI, trusted by the world's top financial firms.
- 5 Plug In. Power Up.
No clunky rollout. Intelligent Agent works with your existing compliance program and delivers faster reviews, sharper insights, and less busywork from day one.

“Surveillance requirements continue to grow and expand as new channels are introduced. We don’t just sit static. With Smarsh, we can adapt to newly introduced categories of surveillance.”
